SPORT SCIENCE REHAB PROGRESS & RTP TESTING

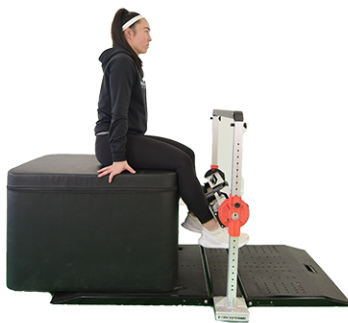

IF YOU'RE NOT TESTING, YOU'RE JUST GUESSING

Using state of the art technologies, the team at Sport Science is able to measure and identify critically important elements of your strength and movement. These properties provide important information about how prepared you are to take forward steps in your rehab. If you are serious about you rehab, we are here to help.

YOUR RESULTS STRAIGHT TO YOUR INBOX

Each testing patient will receive a personalized summary of their testing results sent via email within 48 hours of testing. This report will include a summary of findings, an executive summary identifying key areas of need and a clinical impression of readiness to proceed to increased levels of activity.

YOUR INJURY YOUR GOALS YOUR TESTING BATTERY

No two patients are the same. Each has their own goals, their own history and their own movement patterns. As part of our testing program, we create a unique testing experience for each patient. Specific to your injury, your sport and your progress in your rehab.

SIMPLE TO READ DATA WITH COLLABORATION IN MIND

One of the most fundamental elements of science is that is meant to be shared. At Sport Science we are excited to share our process and your testing results with your healthcare practitioners, doctors and surgeons. your results will be packaged so that they can be shared and discussed across any professional network.
